bride guide

what you need to know

never gotten a spray tan but considering it for your wedding? seasoned spray tan vet but want to make sure you've got it on lock? we've got you covered. here's a few important details to consider:

we always recommend a trial 2-3 weeks before your wedding. this will give the old tan enough time to come off and make sure you have a blank canvas when coming in for the wedding.

when booking your trial, you will have a thorough consult with your spray tan technician about which tan and what timing will work best for you for your wedding, depending on your schedule/travel. we will write down the color that we do for the trial so if we have any tweaks to make for the real deal, we have everything we need to make sure your color is absolute perfection.

it is imperative to follow all pre & post care for the best results before you walk down the aisle. at your trial, your technician will cover all of this with you and please reach out with any questions you may have.

if you are unable to book a trial in advance, please call or text us so we can make sure that you are adequately prepared with all the information you need to know before your tan.

if you are trying to cover tan lines, it will not be a perfect fix. spray tan solution color matches to the skin tone that it is applied to, so we can do some corrections, but it will not be a perfect fix.

we have two options for our brides to be. whether you're coming in solo or bringing a posse, we would love to tan you for your best day ever!
